“ I am sorry for your loss. I spoke with Aunt Sadrie a few months ago on the phone while visiting Mom in Newark. We had a great conversation about fishing. She will be missed.

“ I have a lot of happy memories about my Aunt Sadrie and Uncle Silas...When I was a little girl, we went to visit and Aunt Sadie always served dill pickles and chocolate cake. I didn't seem to think that there was anything wrong with eating them at the same time while I was there. I also remember feeding her bantam chickens that she always seemed to have a special relationship with. As I grew older, I remember how much my dad loved fishing with Aunt Sadrie in Deland and how much fun that they always seemed to be having. Little things mean a lot...I know that my Aunt Sadrie is with my Uncle Silas, her grandson, my dad, my mom and my brother maybe talking about fishing and praying for us. My deepest condolences and prayers go out to my cousins.

“ I have not seen Sadrie in a very long time. I, however, recall her vividly from my youth. She was an excellent cook and I have this memory of her cooking with a cigarette in her mouth. I also recall card games with Silas, Sadrie, John Russell Sr., and my mother. I recall that there were lots of signals between partners and more than once a card would be passed surreptitiously under the table. Mostly I recall a lot of laughing. My condolences to all the family for their loss of this fine lady. May light perpetual shine upon her.

“ Aunt Sadrie always made me feel so good when I visited. Her smile and her energy lifted things up around her. I loved her cooking and her baking...she was one of the best and she was so generous with it. I am thankful for having had her as my aunt. Rest in peace, Aunt Sadrie.

“ Absolutely some of my fondest memories growing up was visiting with Desadra and family... corn cob fights in the barn with Larry, swimming trips to Dewey Lake, and the good feelings from the constant sound of Sadrie's infectious laughter and joking. And I will carry to my grave memories of that wonderful day long ago spent fishing with Silas and Desadra in Florida. But I suppose Sadrie felt it was now time to move on. She had enjoyed a long and fulfilling life accentuated by strong moral convictions....she had enjoyed watching her children grow into upstanding, honest, and hard working adults with good children of their own.... but most of all, she seems to have caught all the fish down here and it was time to move on to heaven where she can again go fishing with Silas every day just like old times. Happy fishing Sadrie.

“ To Aunt desadre, I will mis you. Although we were many miles apart. I have wonderful memories. I recall you baking the best pies! and as soon as breakfast was fixed and cleaned uup, you began cooking for mid day meal. You loved me and gave me hugs when I got a little scratch, and a stern warning when I really needed a switch!! Anyone would be proud to have had the marriage you and Uncle Silas had. God Bless you and comfort your kids at this time. your favorite niece sherri (Im her only niece) on the montgomery side !

“ Many prayers to the family & friends. Desadrea's brother, Mitchell Montgomery, was my grandpa & if she was anything like him, the love & memories shared will live on.
May the good Lord provide comfort in your loss.
Blessings, Teresa
