“ a great loss for me and I only knew him a short time - to those he left behind, I can't imagine how much he will be missed and the recent pictures of him with a grand baby is so heartwarming - it is hard to understand and deal with the big plan for in Heaven, somebody is waiting for that voice that carried through the office on every visit - rest in peace Greg... “ I send this to give you hope for the future. If You Could See Me Now I understand your sadness today I know you did not want me to go away And I know in grief your head will bow It would be different - if you could see me now. This place, my home ,on the other side Has streets of gold, O! so wide At home ,with Jesus, above the cloud My faith is sight, I see clearly now. When I was there on earth with you Living in pain and trials too I could not imagine this beauty I see Here , at home ,with Jesus, for eternity. I was not anxious to leave you there But my faith is in Him, I know He cares He said it was time for me to come home. Now He walks with you, you are not alone Remember when deep sadness settles in To think of me in my new home ,with Him Thank God for His grace as your head you bow You would be happy - if you could see me now. So, please carry on, fill up your days You can see me again if you follow His ways. I want you to be where I am living now O! If only - you could see me now. Written by Hazel Williams Jann © 2002
